TAKE CONTROL OF YOUR FUTURE

July 2018 Newsletter

Coming off a volatile month with split indices' performance since the last newsletter – DJIA down 0.79% (YTD -.56%), S&P +1.23% (YTD +3.04%) and Nasdaq +3.48% (YTD +11.44%), it is clear we are entering a period of investors' risk reduction. Geopolitical concerns, tariffs - both in place and threatened, and the resultant general perception of international instability has caused us to take a close look at our overseas investments.

We decided to reduce exposure to International and Emerging Market funds and refocus on Domestic investments. We will continue to monitor all sectors and regions but we feel the safer play at this time is to be weighted in the U.S. EZTracker portfolios continue to outperform our benchmarks, yet we continue to look to optimize. Please see page 3 for detailed model portfolio adjustments.

As evident in the above chart showing the SPX since May 25, geopolitical concerns have been the reasons behind market movements, with trade concerns sparked by the threatened tariffs against China as the major source of market headwinds.

So, What Is the Big Deal with Tariffs?

A tariff is a tax on certain goods or items coming into a country, levied by a customs broker or agent at the time that the goods enter. The concept is that a tariff would push up the US price of foreign products, making US alternatives more attractive. Currently, President Trump is attempting to get US companies and consumers to use fewer Chinese-produced goods and opt for items made in the US or imported from a more friendly ally.

What does this mean to me?

First: The prices of some products that everyone buys will likely go up. Steel and aluminum, two imports already targeted by the administration, are crucial inputs for autos, airplanes, appliances and for the construction, oil and utility industries.

Second: Although meant to protect US industries, US companies may not be able to replace what is imported, meaning that manufacturers will keep importing and paying the tariff, and therefore would become less profitable or less competitive.

Third: Foreign countries' retaliation, or a trade war, adds insult to injury where other US exporters (like farmers – China is the top export market for soybeans buying $14 billion last year) would suffer immediate reductions in overseas demand without any alternate new market.

To the extent that the threat of tariffs obtain some other international goal or concession, without actually levying the duty, it can be an effective negotiation tactic.

Bottom Line:

Fundamental economic strength spurred the US Equity markets at the onset of June, but the announced tariffs and the potential for a drawn-out trade war with China as well as the European Union negatively affected investors sentiment. We continue to closely watch these events given the global uncertainty that may arise from trade and geopolitical concerns, and have changed our model portfolios accordingly. Keep in mind that investing for your retirement is a long-term proposition. Follow the model portfolio that best fits your comfort and ability to take risk. Only you can decide how much risk is right for you.

What We're Watching

Economic Data

Employment, as described in the May US Employment Report (issued on June 1), outperformed expectations with a 223k increase in non-farm payrolls. The resultant reduction in the unemployment rate to 3.8% was energized by broad-based strength across many services sectors including business services, education and health, leisure and hospitality, and retail. At the widely anticipated June Federal Open Market Committee meeting, the Fed raised the target range for the federal funds rate by 25bp, in line with consensus expectations. The Fed's policy path steepened in 2018 and 2019 with indications of two further rate hikes this year and three rate increases in 2019. Consumer sentiment as measured by the University of Michigan Index for Consumer Sentiment continues to climb, rising to 99.3 in June from 98.0 based mainly on an improvement in consumers' assessment of current economic conditions and consumers' perceiving themselves to be better off financially relative to a year ago. That said, consumers also perceive more uncertainty, driven by expectations of higher interest rates and elevated gas prices.

Sector Analysis

Consumer Discretionary, Technology, Energy, and Healthcare continue to be the best performing sectors. Defensive sectors such as Consumer Staples and Telecom continue to lag the market with no signs of a change. The sectors that would be expected to perform well through a trade war scenario, besides US bonds, are those that have a lot of exposure to the US economy such as Healthcare (which has recently risen to be a top-performing sector YTD) and regional banks. In many of our EZTracker expanded, brokerage or EZTrackerETF portfolios, we are weighted towards the the higher performing sectors such as Technology and Consumer Discretionary.

2018 YTD Sector Performance

Fixed Income and Other Markets

Yield Curve and Rates: Since the end of May, the yield on the benchmark 10-year treasury remained within the 2.9%-3.0% range. More importantly, the spread between two- and ten-year Treasury notes has fallen to 0.35% after averaging 0.50% over the past 3 months. The yield curve tends to flatten when investors pare their long-term growth and inflation expectations, but one should not discount the Fed's intentions to continue hiking short term interest rates (causing this spread to fall). This indicator is important since each of the past seven recessions has been preceded by an inverted curve (shorter-term bonds paying more than longer bonds).

Oil: Since the end of May, oil prices have fallen due to the assumption amongst investors that OPEC will decide to boost production during its meetings held the weekend of June 22-24. This in fact was the case after Saudi Arabia convinced Iran to drop its opposition, paving the way for a deal for increased production of some 700,000 barrels per day starting next month. Although the boost was lower than originally expected, the increased output is hoped to keep oil prices at their "goldilocks" value of just under $70 per barrel, offering price relief to consumers. Oil prices actually rose on the announcement and the realization that the boost was lower than expected, but many experts expect the prices to revert to their downward trend soon.

The EZTracker Brokerage Portfolio is a very aggressive approach for investors who want to invest in a wider range of market sectors. Managing this portfolio will require more time and greater comfort with risk than the other EZTracker portfolios. We suggest this portfolio for more experienced, knowledgeable investors. See the Monthly Fund Data in the appendix for a list of funds in this portfolio. If you are interested in using Fidelity's Self-Directed Brokerage Link, follow the instructions on the Fidelity website to set up your account or call the American representative at Fidelity (800-354-3412).

STEP 2: Update Future Investment Elections

Aggressive, Trend, Moderate & Conservative Portfolios: This is the money coming out of your paycheck each month and going into your 401k. Your future contributions should be set identical to your Current Investments in the above EZTracker Model Portfolio chart above.

Brokerage Portfolio: Set Future Investments for 95% to the Brokerage Link and 5% to US SMALL MID CAP STK. Then continue and set 100% of the Brokerage Link contributions to Fidelity Cash Reserves (FDRXX)

Our suggested approach:

- When adding one new position, add 50% of your cash balance to the proceeds of the fund you are selling.
- When adding two or more new positions, add 100% of your cash balance to the proceeds of the funds you are selling and split the dollar total equally in purchasing the new funds.

Morningstar Target Risk Index

The Morningstar Target Risk Index series serve as benchmarks to help with investment selections. They cover a global set of stocks, bonds and commodities. While not investable indices, they represent challenging benchmarks for long-term investing plans such as the EZTracker model portfolios.

Historical Performance

Any investment strategy should be measured one way: Results over time. Not one-week, one-month, not even one-year. While past performance is not a guarantee of future performance, our record has been excellent in delivering long-term returns. As with any long-term investing strategy, you should not expect dramatic short-term results to offset past losses.
